

PEARSON MANAGER DIES ON TRAIN

Race Against Death Is Made
To El Paso in Vain.

Everett M. Warren, manager of the Pearson interests at Pearson, Chihuahua, died on a special train which was bringing him to this city at 12 o'clock Wednesday.

Tuesday night he ate some canned sardines and was immediately taken ill. So critical did his condition become that it was decided to hurry him to an El Paso hospital for treatment for ptomaine poisoning, but he died en route.

The deceased, who was about 52 years of age and is survived by a widow, who is at present a guest at the Hotel Fisher in this city, has been with the Pearson company for several years having come here from Seattle, Wash., where he was prominently connected in railroad circles.

The body was brought to El Paso this afternoon but no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

CAPT. OBEDEAH BOUNDS.

Capt. Obediah Bounds, aged 81, died at his home, 807 North Campbell street yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The deceased was a native of Missouri and was born near Lexington in 1830. He remained at home until the age of 19, when he went out to California during the gold excitement in '49. He stayed there about six years, and in '54 came to Sherman, Tex., in a wagon over the desert, as there were no railroads in those days.

While in Sherman he became a stockman, and made many friends all over the country. In 1860 he was mustered in as a captain in the Confederate army and in several instances distinguished himself upon the field of action.

After the war, he went back to Sherman and lived there until eight years ago when he moved to El Paso, where he has been connected with the cattle raising business more or less, until the time of his sudden death yesterday.

Besides the sorrowing friends, he is survived by two daughters and three sons, Mrs. Z. T. White, of El Paso; Mrs. William Goulsby, of Greenville, Tex.; James Bounds, of Oklahoma, and E. H. and Buck Bounds, stock raisers of El Paso county.

The funeral will take place at the family home, 807 North Campbell, this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, and interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

A. M. BARNETT.

A. M. Barnett, an old Confederate veteran, died at noon Wednesday at his home near the wireless telegraph station in East El Paso. He had been sick about 10 days. A wife and one child survive him. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but will probably be in charge of the local Confederate camp.

El Paso's First Modern Department Store

It pleases us greatly that we are able to be the ones to offer El Pasoans, and people living tributary to El Paso, the first modern department store. We realize fully that it is through the constant cooperation of our many customers that this store is now building.

The Past

What has been accomplished in the past can be taken as an indication of what we propose for the future. Of course in the new store you will be surrounded by every modern shopping facility. Not only that but the high Calisher standard of merchandise will be maintained.

Mexico Patrons

We understand thoroughly requirements of Mexico customers, and advance notice is given that in the new store a special department will be installed for handling your business.

THE NEW CALISHER STORE

Is Rapidly Approaching Completion

We know of nothing more closely allied to the prosperity of the Southwest and Mexico than the Calisher establishment. Passing quickly over the 30 years that this store has served its multitude of customers both in the United States and Mexico brings us now to the eve of the opening of our new building at the corner of Texas and Stanton. From present indications, the new building will be ready for occupancy within two months, and early in September we hope to welcome you to our new home.

The above conveys only partially an idea of the outward appearance of the new store. When completed, this store will not only be handsome on the exterior but the interior is being modeled according to the most recent ideas in modern merchandising.

The Heart Of El Paso's Shopping District

The new Calisher location, corner of Texas and Stanton, will in fact be the heart of El Paso's shopping district. We deem it not an inopportune time to thank both El Paso and out-of-town customers for the splendid support given us since our fire last August.

The Present

Just now we are devoting our energies to closing out present stock. It is our intention to carry nothing from our temporary quarters into the new store. Several special events in connection with closing out present stock will occur during the next two months. Keep posted at all times.

Advance Notice

In our advertisement tomorrow afternoon we will give news of a coming sale event that will, easily, eclipse any in the history of the Calisher store. The bargain benefits will be many—get your share of them.

THE ELEGANT New Home of the Potter Confectionery IN THE MILLS BUILDING

Chief among the stores of which El Paso may well feel proud is that of the Potter Confectionery and Floral company in the Mills building, facing on San Jacinto plaza.

A rotating electric fan over the transom on the outside of the door draws fresh cooling air into the beautiful parlor of sweets, for such it is. To the right of the entrance is a handsome onyx soda fountain with myriads of little electric bulbs studded throughout, while to the left are two large refrigerators with glass fronts showing beautiful flowers, and next behind this are the candy cases of beveled glass where candy is kept cool and fresh. Beyond the fountain is the parlor where wicker tables and chairs in green give a rustic and cooling appearance, while the glow of indirect lights lends a pleasant invitation to the thirsty.

This lighting system makes the interior so bright that one may read with comfort, and yet there is not a shadow, even the buzzing, cooling electric fans which rotate about, not affecting the lights in the slightest. The glow of the electric bulbs is cast upon the ceiling by the use of reflectors and then radiates about the room without annoying the eye.

It is to be expected that in such a palace of glass there would be good things to eat and drink. Potter's has made a name on the plaza that is to be envied and is continually inventing new drinks and sundae to delight the appetite of an epicure. It is one of the show places of town.
